Eastern Oregon Building Officials Association

WHEN DISASTER STRIKES EVALUATOR TRAINING INSTRUCTOR BIOS

Ted Zuk, CBO*, is the Development Services Director and Building Official for Jackson County, Oregon. Ted has more than 40 years of combined experience in the construction and building safety professions, including over 20 years as an inspector, plans examiner, and building official. He currently serves as President of ICC Region II and is a Past President of both the Oregon Building Officials Association (OBOA) and the Southern Oregon Chapter of ICC. Ted has extensive emergency management and post-disaster response experience, including overseeing building evaluations and damage assessments following the devastating 2020 Almeda and Obenchain wildfires in Southern Oregon. He is an experienced instructor and presenter on building safety, code administration, and the role of building departments in post-disaster response.*

Chris Wong, PE, SE*, is a licensed civil and structural engineer in Oregon and California. Chris has over 20 years of experience in structural design, evaluation, and structural plan review of building structures. He is currently a structural engineer for the City of Hillsboro Community Development Department. He is a trainer for OrSAP, CalOES SAP, and ICC When Disaster Strikes building safety evaluator training. Chis currently serves as a At-Large Director for the Oregon Building Officials Association (OBOA).He is chair of OBOA Disaster Preparedness & Response committee and has been actively providing training for code officials with the OrSAP building safety evaluator training.*